

Commitment to an Anti-Bias Approach

When providing education and care to children, the River School Early Childhood Centre and its team are committed to implementing and facilitating:

1. A sense of self-awareness, confidence, family pride and positive social identities for themselves and others.
2. The freedom to express a response of comfort and joy for their own identity by using accurate language for human diversity, including how individuals express themselves and instilling deep, caring, human and non-human connections.
3. Increasing recognition of unfairness and injustice by having language to describe these responses, along with an understanding of how these responses hurt themselves and others.
4. Demonstration of empowerment and development of skills to act, with others, or alone, against prejudice and / or discriminatory actions.
